OUR MISSION

Giving Every Autism Educator a Plan to Educate Confidently.

AutismClassroom.com was built from lived experience in the autism classroom. Founder S. B. Linton spent years rearranging furniture, developing systems, and creating materials from scratch because no comprehensive curriculum existed.

Today, AutismClassroom.com provides school districts with practical, ready-to-use resources for students with significant special needs: a flagship online course to help teachers set up an autism classroom, a comprehensive suite of student workbooks, and classroom-tested books used by special education teams across the country.

Every resource is designed with one goal in mind, more successful days for students with autism and the teachers who serve them.
